RECOGNISING YOUR SUPPORT

THANK YOU FOR SUPPORTING NUMBER CONFIDENCE WEEK 2025

As a Lead Supporter of the campaign, we'll recognise your organisation's support across our channels and relevant campaign content. Below are examples of where and how we'll do this.

MAIN CAMPAIGN ANNOUNCEMENT – WEBSITE

In October, we'll be announcing our Lead Supporters in our main campaign announcement article.

This will have prominent visibility on the National Numeracy homepage.

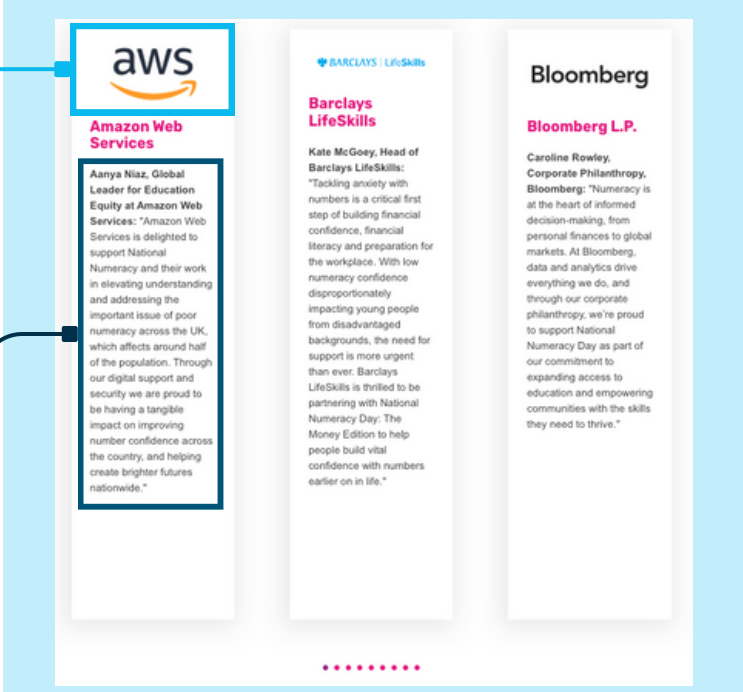

We will display your logo alongside your organisation's statement of support. Your logo can link to your chosen webpage and organisations will be listed in alphabetical order.

Example:

Your logo here

Your text here

The example shows three vertical cards within a light blue frame. Each card features a logo at the top, followed by the organization's name, and then a statement of support. The first card is for AWS, the second for Barclays LifeSkills, and the third for Bloomberg. A line from the 'Your logo here' text points to the AWS logo, and a line from the 'Your text here' text points to the AWS statement box.

aws
Amazon Web Services
Aanya Niaz, Global Leader for Education Equity at Amazon Web Services: "Amazon Web Services is delighted to support National Numeracy and their work in elevating understanding and addressing the important issue of poor numeracy across the UK, which affects around half of the population. Through our digital support and security we are proud to be having a tangible impact on improving number confidence across the country, and helping create brighter futures nationwide."

BARCLAYS | LifeSkills
Barclays LifeSkills
Kate McGoey, Head of Barclays LifeSkills: "Tackling anxiety with numbers is a critical first step of building financial confidence, financial literacy and preparation for the workplace. With low numeracy confidence disproportionately impacting young people from disadvantaged backgrounds, the need for support is more urgent than ever. Barclays LifeSkills is thrilled to be partnering with National Numeracy Day: The Money Edition to help people build vital confidence with numbers earlier on in life."

Bloomberg
Bloomberg L.P.
Caroline Rowley, Corporate Philanthropy, Bloomberg: "Numeracy is at the heart of informed decision-making, from personal finances to global markets. At Bloomberg, data and analytics drive everything we do, and through our corporate philanthropy, we're proud to support National Numeracy Day as part of our commitment to expanding access to education and empowering communities with the skills they need to thrive."

PARTNERSHIPS ANNOUNCEMENT - SOCIAL MEDIA

We'll also announce your support of the campaign on our social media channels.

All organisations that are confirmed as Lead Supporters by Friday 17 October will be included in this announcement.

Where possible, your logo will be included in the post and your chosen social media channel will be tagged on Monday 20 October.

Example:

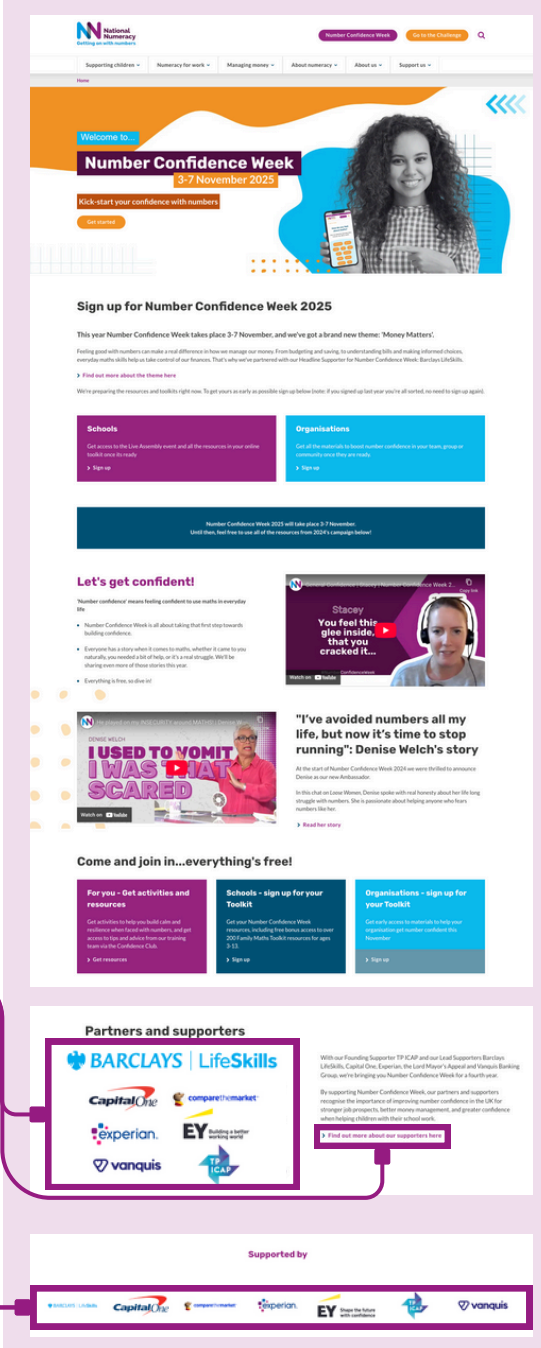

Graphics to announce support on your own channels will be provided and sent to you as part of your Campaign Toolkit. Feel free to use these at any time. We will amplify and share posts we are tagged in.

NUMBER CONFIDENCE WEEK WEBPAGE

All Lead Supporters will be recognised on our main campaign webpage. This will include your organisation's logo and a link to find out more about your support of National Numeracy.

Sign up for Number Confidence Week 2025

This year Number Confidence Week takes place 3-7 November, and we've got a brand new theme: 'Money Matters'.

Feeling good with numbers can make a real difference to how we manage our money. From budgeting and saving to understanding bills and making informed choices, everyday maths skills help us take control of our finances. That's why we've partnered with our Headline Sponsor for Number Confidence Week, Barclay's LifeSkills.

Find out more about the theme here

We're preparing the resources and toolkits right now. To get yours as early as possible sign up below (note: if you signed up last year you're all sorted, no need to sign up again).

Number Confidence Week 2025 will take place 3-7 November.
Until then, feel free to use all of the resources from 2024's campaign below!

Let's get confident!

Number confidence means feeling confident to use maths in everyday life.

- Number Confidence Week is all about taking that first step towards building confidence.
- Everyone has a story when it comes to maths, whether it came to you naturally or you needed a bit of help or it's a minor struggle. We'll be sharing even more of these stories this year.
- Everything is there, to give it a go!
